I recently discovered 18 brand-new apps that will pay you to pretty much do nothing—even while you sleep. Most of these apps are available worldwide, require no previous experience, and are compatible with both iOS and Android. However, let me be 100% honest with you from the start: none of these apps will make you a millionaire, but they won't waste your time either if you're just trying to make some extra money online. Yes, some of them really do pay you to sleep. My name is Amelia, and let's dive into the list, starting with the first app.

1. Evidation App

The first app on our list is evidation, which pays you for simple actions like walking, sleeping, and more. It's a health-focused app that tracks your sleep and steps, but it also pays you because it displays ads and collects data that's used for research. This app allows you to earn points by just having it installed on your phone, which you can then exchange for real money. You don't need to do anything extra—just keep your phone in your pocket as you go about your day, and the app will track your activity and reward you for it.

2. Earn FM

The next app is called Earn FM. This app pays you for sharing your internet data, and like Vation, it requires almost no effort on your part. Just install the app, put your phone in your pocket, and start earning passively. While it won't make you rich—expect to earn around $100 a month if you share a lot of data—it does provide a way to make some money without doing much of anything, even while you sleep.

3. Professional Sleepers

App number three is specifically designed to pay you for sleeping, and it's aptly named Professional Sleepers. This app can pay you anywhere from $19 to $32 per hour of sleep, depending on the products you test. You'll be testing a variety of sleeping products, such as headphones, pillows, and mattresses, and giving your honest feedback. However, this app is currently only available to users in the United States.

4. TikTok Creativity Program

Next up is TikTok's Creativity Program. In the Online Business Club, I've seen people make hundreds, and even tens of thousands of dollars through this program. TikTok now pays creators for views on videos that are over a minute long. If you're posting content that gets traction, you can earn $1 to $2 per 1,000 views. I've even created a free tutorial on YouTube that shows you how to access this program from any country, even if it's not officially available there. This is a great way to earn money passively as your videos continue to get views.

5. EarnApp

EarnApp is another app that provides passive income by paying you when your devices are idle. The more devices you have, the more you can potentially earn. The app works in the background, collecting data, and you can start using it by signing up with Google or Apple. While it only pays around $20 a month, it's still money you're earning without lifting a finger.

6. Sound Campaign

Sound Campaign pays you to listen to music—a task many of us do anyway in our free time. You can earn up to $14 per song by providing honest feedback on the tracks you listen to. This app is available worldwide and offers instant payouts, making it an easy way to earn money while enjoying your favorite tunes.

7. Pocket Share

Pocket Share is another app that lets you earn extra income without doing any extra work. It pays you for completing tasks, sharing data, and simply having the app installed on your phone. Unfortunately, this app is only available for Android users, so iOS users will need to look elsewhere on this list

8. Rewarded.TV

Whenever List, also known as Rewarded.TV, pays you for streaming and watching TV shows and movies. As you watch, ads will be displayed, and you'll earn a share of the ad revenue. This app essentially pays you for something you're likely already doing in your free time, making it an easy way to earn some extra cash.

9. SimCash

SimCash allows you to earn money by sharing your unused SMS messages. Once you set it up, the app runs in the background, sending and receiving texts on your behalf. You don't even need to open or read the messages—you'll get paid simply for allowing the app to use your SMS service.

10. Block Rewards

Block Reward pays you for your time without requiring you to do any extra work. However, this app is geared towards crypto enthusiasts, as all payments are made in cryptocurrency. If you're into crypto, this could be a great way to earn some digital coins while doing nothing.

11. Macadam App

Macadam is an app that pays you to walk. Similar to Vation, you install the app, keep your phone in your pocket, and get paid for your daily steps. It's available on both iOS and Android, and while the earnings aren't huge, it's still a nice way to make some money by staying active.

12. YouTube Studio / Google AdSense

YouTube Studio or Google AdSense is another way to earn passive income. I run several YouTube channels, including this one, that generate hundreds of dollars each night while I'm asleep. To prove this, I can show you some of my oldest videos that continue to make money years after they were posted. If you're willing to put in the initial work, YouTube can be a powerful source of passive income.

13. VideoCash

VideoCash pays you to watch or upload videos. You can literally just click play, set your phone aside, and earn money while the videos play. It's available only on the Play Store for Android users, but it's a simple way to earn money without doing much of anything.

14. Honeygain

Honeygain is an app that pays you for sharing your data. The more devices you have connected, the more money you can make. While the average earnings are around $29 to $30 a month, it's a nice way to earn some passive income for doing nothing.

15. AI-Generated Instagram Reels

Another unique way to earn money is by creating AI-generated Instagram Reels. Using an AI tool called Haen, you can create AI avatars and post them on Instagram or TikTok. Many people in the Online Business Club have made thousands of dollars by driving traffic to affiliate links using these AI-generated reels, without ever recording anything themselves.

16. Gener8 App

The Gener8 app pays you for generating and sharing data. Once installed, the app runs in the background, collecting data and paying you for it. It's another example of how you can get paid without doing anything, even while you sleep.

17. FitMint

FitMint is an app that pays you to walk and run. The more active you are, the more points you earn, which can be exchanged for money. It's an excellent way to stay healthy while also earning some extra cash.

18. Cash Stars

Last on our list is Cash Stars, an app that pays you to listen to music, like photos on Instagram, search on Google, play video games, and complete various tasks. It's one of the highest-paying apps on this list, but you'll need to join the priority waitlist by entering your name and email address.

Conclusion

While these apps won't make you rich, they do offer easy ways to earn some extra cash for doing things you're already doing—or for doing nothing at all. If you're looking for more substantial income, I've also created a free YouTube tutorial on how to make $10,000 a month online, even if you have no special skills or previous experience. You can watch that by clicking on the button on the screen now. Thanks for watching, and happy earning!
